On thin ice ...

Ice on area lakes may be safe for snowmobiles in most cases, but it certainly isn't thick enough to support a pickup truck, as a Gooderham area resident found out when he tried to drive out onto Koshlong Lake. The truck disappeared beneath the cracking ice, but by

Saturday morning, divers Barry Connelly and Bob Pearson, several other men wielding chainsaws, and a bulldozer operator, had managed to drag it up onto shore for repairs.

Mobile home park planned

Development to be located in the Lochlin area

A proposed 76 lot mobile home park has received preliminary approval from Dysart et al council, who have agreed to allow an application for the necessary official plan amendments.

The park is to be developed by Haliburton resident Rex Boice on land he owns just north of Lochlin. Derrell Stampa of Planco Consultants, who is representing Boice, presented council with a preliminary site plan of the development on Monday. Stamp said each of the 76 lots would have at least 100 feet of frontage and a depth of 110 feet. While some of the lots are larger, none is smaller than these dimensions, he said.

The lots will front on 40 foot wide roadways to be built and maintained by the company developing the park. A single 66 foot wide municipal roadway would be available to service land abutting the new development.

The plan also includes two large open space areas which are not suitable for development but could be used for recreation purposes, Stamp said.

Septic tanks and tile beds will handle sewage on each lot, but water will be supplied from a single source and the distribution system will meet environment ministry specifications, Stamp said.

"The finished project is expected to closely resemble the Lutterworth Estates development south of Minden, Stamp noted.

Reeve Murray Fearrey asked if the plan would include any provision for commercial development such as a convenience store. Stamp replied that Boice wants to rezone a parcel of land on the other side of County Road 1 to highway commercial with that possibility in mind.

Stamp also indicated that the municipality's official plan contains no provisions for mobile home parks or for site plan control of such development, and suggested that the plan should be amended to include them.

Council agreed to the proposal, and asked Stamp to draft the necessary provisions.

The proposed development would cater primarily to retired people, but some of the lots may be available for families, Stamp said.

Opportunity for public input into the proposal will come during the official plan amendment process.

Businesses to get help in creating local jobs

Haliburton County has been targeted for a federally sponsored Local Employment Assistance Program that could pump more than $1 million into the local economy and help create a number of permanent jobs.

Up to $100,000 will be made available by the federal government for a planning process that will lead to the formation of a local development corporation. A full-time planner/coordinator is expected to be hired, and legal and accounting advice also will be sought at the planning stage. A 17-person volunteer board also will be set up to administer the corporation.

The corporation can use federally granted funds of up to $220,000 a year for five years to assist planning projects, enterprise projects, or infrastructure projects designed to enhance services in the county. The federal government also will provide up to $130,000 a year over the five-year life of the LEAP scheme to cover administrative costs and technical assistance to local businesses.

While a decision on how the program will be structured will not be made until the initial planning phase has been completed, Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce manager Emily Skinner, who drafted the application along with a steering committee, said local corporation is likely to place its emphasis on assistance to existing and proposed small businesses in the county.

The LEAD Corporation will invest the federal grants and make loans of up to $25,000 to local businesses which have an idea that can create permanent jobs but cannot obtain the funds from other sources.

While the project funding is limited to a five-year period, the corporation may continue beyond that period if money invested and loaned out is being paid back. Ultimately, the program may provide a continually circulating pool of venture capital to help local businesses create new jobs. The only substantial restrictions are that a venture project must not compete unfairly with an existing business and that there must be a reasonable expectation any jobs created will be permanent.

The planning process leading up to the formation of a corporation can take up to a year, but it is expected that about six months will be needed to nail down the parameters of the local program.

Full details on the LEAP scheme are expected to be provided by a federal representative at a meeting of county council this Wednesday.

Dysart to put a big bite on owners of untied dogs

Dog owners in Dysart et al who fail to keep their pets under control will be in for hefty fines if council has its way. At a meeting Monday, council responded to what it views as a growing problem by agreeing to seek provincial approval for a six-fold increase in the fine, from the current $18 to $100.

Reeve Murray Fearrey described the present fine as "a joke", saying it fails to act as a deterrent to people who don't keep their dogs tied up.

Council expressed particular concern over recent incidents in which two dogs owned by a Haliburton resident cornered pedestrians and threatened them with serious injury. The animals were driven off by other passers-by, but the consequences could have been more serious, particularly if a child had been involved, council noted.

"What I'm after here (in pressing for higher fines) is people who continually let their dogs run and laugh about it," the reeve said.

Council agreed to ask the province to authorize a higher fine, and also felt that by-law officer Bob English, who is often called in to deal with dog problems in the municipality, should be better equipped. Accordingly, council passed a resolution authorizing the purchase of a tranquilizer gun and other equipment necessary to catch dogs.

New position set

In a bid to exert more careful control over budgets and facilitate the sharing of equipment among departments, Anson, Hindon and Minden council has appointed Brian Sisson as 'community services coordinator', a new position created as an experiment.

Sisson, the municipality's parks department and arena manager, will work with road superintendent Earl Kent, public works supervisor Gene Newell and members of council to ensure that machinery

Building tops $6 million mark as Dysart continues to grow

The value of building permits in Dysart et al has topped $6 million for the first time in the municipality's history. A total of 257 permits were issued in 1984 for work estimated to be worth $6,493,280.

Sixteen new houses were built with an estimated value of $791,000. Some 67 seasonal residences also were built within the municipality last year, and their value was estimated at $2,678,000. The balance of the building permits were for repairs, additions, alterations and non-residential structures with a total estimated value of $3,024,280.

The statistics were contained in a report submitted to council on Monday by municipal law enforcement officer Bob English.

The report also noted that there were 858 parking violations and 12 violations of other by-laws during the past year. Parking tickets brought $1,394 into the municipality's coffers, while the meters in Haliburton village generated an additional $7,914.

Fees paid for building permits totalled $7,190 last year while fees for the 31 municipal licenses issued to restaurants, snack bars, campgrounds, arcades, taxis and can- teens generated an additional $1655 for the municipality.

Minden reeve Lyle McKnight presents a plaque from Housing Minister Claude Bennett to Winn Lahay Newbery on Friday night at a banquet to honour the former county clerk, who retired at the end of December.

Dedication praised ...

Former county clerk honoured at banquet

Winn Lahay Newbery, who retired recently as clerk of Haliburton County, was honoured by county councillors and associates on Friday at a banquet and dance in Minden. The evening was a surprise to the former clerk, who had no idea until she arrived at the Minden Community Centre that close to 100 people had turned out to say 'thank you' for her years of dedicated service to the county.

On hand for the occasion were members of the Lahay and Newbery families, former county wardens, county councillors and various county associates.

Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Lyle McKnight was master of ceremonies for the evening, and read a number of personal telegrams from well-wishers who were unable to attend the event, including premier William Davis, provincial transportation minister James Snow, trade and commerce minister Frank Miller, MP Bill Scott, MPP John Eakins, Fred Sims of the consulting firm Totten, Sims, Hubicki; former warden Mac McGillivray and his wife Lillian, and former warden Jerry Howarth.

Following the banquet, a number of gifts were presented to the former clerk and her husband Reg, including $200 in cash, 192 British Pounds for an upcoming trip to England, and a set of soft luggage. Past wardens of the county also came to the podium to recount stories of their association with the clerk during their respective tenures, and to express their appreciation for her commitment to the county.

Former warden Roy Windover was the principal organizer of the banquet and dance, with Ed Pergolas providing the catering service.

Police News

Occurrences

During the period of January 7 to 13, personnel at Minden detachment investigated the following occurrences: seven motor vehicles accidents in which there were three minor injuries and 34 general occurrences including three break and enters and two assaults.

Disturbance

A disturbance among several persons both inside and outside a residence in Eagle Lake has resulted in charges being laid against two Oshawa persons. An Eagle Lake resident was assaulted and a parked car, owned by a Lochlin resident, received $800 damage during the argument.

Charged are Timothy Robinson, age 18, with assault causing bodily harm and Linda Robinson, age 37, with mischief. PC Brian Dunahm is investigating.

Snowmobiles

Some disturbing statistics were received concerning snowmobile accidents in Ontario during the 83-84 winter season. Accidents increased 61.5% over the preceding year and fatalities more than doubled rising to 24 from 11. Obviously snow conditions were much better for snowmobiling in the 83-84 season but still the death and injury totals seem high.

Of the 22 drivers who died, 15 had been drinking to some extent. In addition, another six drivers drowned. All had been drinking.

Revised Law

Motor vehicles are now required to be driven with headlights turned on for longer periods. The Highway Traffic Act was recently amended and now requires headlights at any time between one-half hour before sunset to one-half hour after sunrise. On this day, January 14, lights would be required (approximately) between 4:30 in the afternoon till 8:20 the next morning.

Vehicle lights must also be used when, due to atmospheric conditions or insufficient light, vehicles or persons are not clearly discernible at a distance of 150 metres or less.

Monmouth minutes

Monmouth council held a regular meeting on January 7 and considered the following matters.

Visitors included Sandy Barbour, Margaret Finlay, Irene Somerville, Murray Bolton, Don Fevreau, Greg Walton and Murray Agnew, a business community delegation requesting plowing of their business lots; and Brent Clarkson and Richard McDonald, presenting and representing a petition from the ratepayers of the Bear Lake area requesting fire protection from Glamorgan Fire Department.

General voucher of $84, 198.58; general voucher of $747.75; roads voucher of $7,792.65 and welfare payroll of $1,685.58 were approved for payment.

Council hired Vic Poulin to supervise a road brushing crew at the township rate and mileage will be paid.

Council made its annual petition for subsidy under the provisions of the Public Transportation and Highway Improvement Act on expenditures made during the year 1984.

The proposal of Trueman Hawley to repair the heat system at the Lloyd Watson Hall in the amount of $916.91 was accepted.

Council accepted the amended report from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing regarding the Assisted Housing Study for seniors in Monmouth Township.

The following persons were appointed to the following committees for the 1985 year:

Fence viewers and pound keepers - George Earle, Robert Young and Grant McCrea.

Fire Wardens - Walter Klapow, Robert Young, John Davidson and Harry Finlay.

Library Committee - Margaret Finlay, Isobel Craig, Winnie Schofield, Gerald Shackleton and Dwain Tighe.

It was a cold day for a plunge in Koshlong Lake, but divers Barry Connelly and Bob Pearson, wearing dry suits, braved the weather to assist a hapless driver who made the mistake of trying to drive out onto the ice of Koshlong Lake. No one was injured in the incident, but it took a good deal of time and effort to pull the truck back onto dry land.

SSFC gets dollars

Sir Sanford Fleming College has received over $900,000 dollars from the province's Board of Industrial Leadership and Development (BILD) to purchase equipment for its new centre for Integrated Manufacturing (CIM) in Peterborough and to enhance generally the college's business and technical programs.

SSFC received the largest capital fund allotment in the Ontario college system. A total of $8 million was distributed by the province among the 22 community colleges for the purchase of high technology equipment.

What a way to start 1985! was SSFC President Charles Pascal's initial reaction to the announcement. Equipment for the computer-based manufacturing facility was the college's first priority in its capital request. The funds will be used to purchase a flexible manufacturing cell, computer assisted manufacturing training units, a materials handling system and computer numerical control machines.

"In Canada, increased productivity will mean expansion of the economic pie and therefore more jobs," said Pascal. "The CIM represents the best of a positive future for businesses which integrate, in a planned fashion, the best of the new technologies with sound business know how. These will be the businesses which are capable of responding quickly and effectively to new market opportunities here and abroad. The CIM will provide education and training for jobs with a future."

"As importantly, these external capital funds will increase the flexibility of our regular operating budgets and enable us to meet other high college priorities. For example, the Frost Campus in Lindsay will be able to purchase $165,000 in equipment for its centre for Advanced Resource Measurement and Assessment (CAR-

This Week

Local councils share a past

The duties and responsibilities of local councils have changed a great deal during the past century. Or have they? Since this is local government week, read the minutes of the January 19, 1885, meeting of the Glamorgan Township Council and compare the concerns and issues which were dealt with then with the concerns and issues which are faced today by your elected representatives. You decide!

The first meeting of council was held at Gooderham School House on Monday, January 19, 1885. Present were: Reeve Archibald McColl and councillors and seconded by Henry Raby that John Hunter on the part of the council and Dan Williams on part of the reeve be appointed auditors and that by-laws appointing them, and also the clerk, treasurer and assessor, be drawn up, read three times and passed.

It was moved by Henry Raby and seconded by Sidney Switzer that William Dovell, pathmaster be authorized to open a road on his beat across a portion of Lot 31, Concession 3.

It was moved by Henry Raby and seconded by James Mintz that the sum of eight dollars paid into the treasury in 1882 by Mrs.

Council of 1885 wanted registry office built in Haliburton

James Mintz, Sidney Switzer and Henry Raby. Absent was councillor George Billings.

Declarations of qualifications and office were taken and signed by the members present.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

It was moved by Sidney Switzer and seconded by Henry Raby that Mr. Ridley pay all the back taxes he possibly can by March 1 and bring the facts again before the council and they would then further inform him what extension of time they could give him.

It was moved by James Mintz and seconded by Sidney Switzer that four dollars be paid for the use of the school house during 1884.

It was moved by Henry Raby and seconded by Sidney Switzer that Stephen Kettle be clerk at a salary of thirty-five dollars.

It was moved by James Mintz and seconded by Sidney Switzer that Richard Davey be appointed treasurer at a salary of Twenty-five dollars.

It was moved by Henry Raby, seconded by Sidney Switzer that John Dovell be appointed assessor at a salary of thirteen dollars.

It was moved by James Mintz, seconded by Sidney Switzer that the sessional allowance be left as they were at the last session of council. Dividing on this question, two voted for the motion, two voted against and the matter was allowed to stand over.

Sylvester Hadley presented a bill for repairing Monk Road, and it was moved by James Mintz, seconded by Henry Raby that the amount, two dollars, be paid.

It was moved by James Mintz

John Bolin be returned to her. This sum was paid as a portion of G. Goose's taxes but as the county clerk would not accept a portion and returned them, they had remained in the treasury till now.

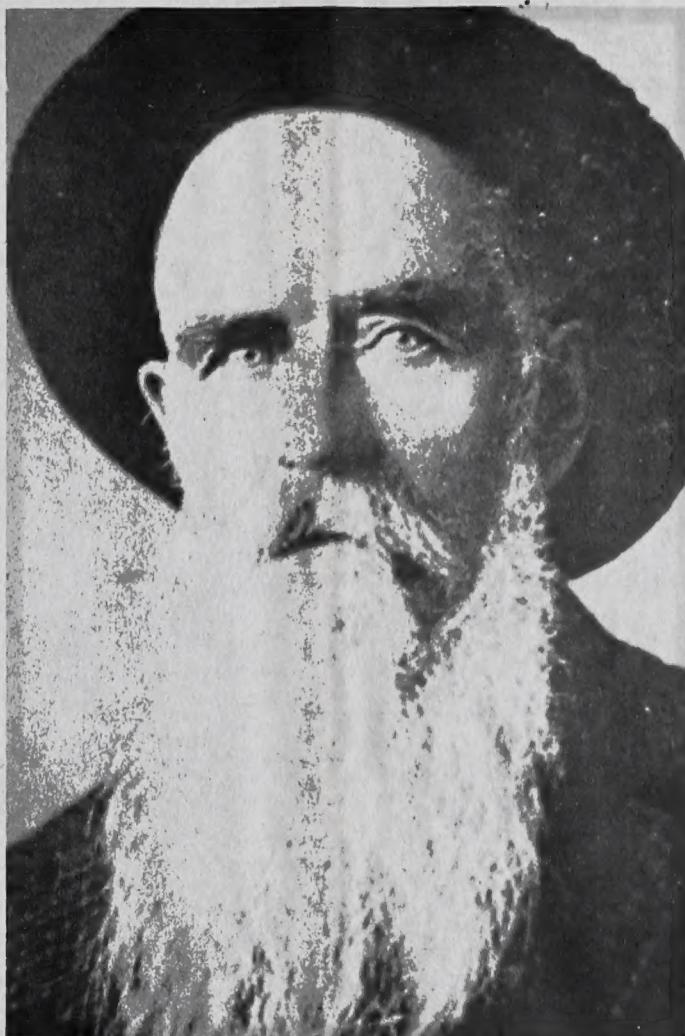

It was moved by Sidney Switzer and seconded by James Mintz that Joseph Smith be instructed as pathmaster to open a road to commence on Lot 4, Concession 1 and to extend eastward and end on Lot 13, Concession 3.

It was moved by James Mintz and seconded by Sidney Switzer that pathmaster, pound keepers and fence viewers be appointed.

It was moved by Henry Raby and seconded by Sidney Switzer that a petition be sent to the local government at Toronto asking them not to give the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa railway the 5,000 acres of land per mile for every mile of railway they build, which they have or are about to apply for.

It was moved by Sidney Switzer and seconded by Henry Raby that a memo be sent to the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario that the registry office for Haliburton County be placed at Haliburton as more in the centre of the county and population and more desirable on account of the Township of Dysart having offered to build it there free of charge to the county.

It was moved by James Mintz and seconded by Henry Raby that the next meeting of the council be at this School House on the first Saturday in June. S. Kettle, Clerk Archibald McColl, Reeve Glamorgan

Lights must be on sooner

Headlight use encouraged by new regulation

Ontario motorists will be keeping their headlights on longer since an amendment to the Highway Traffic Act received Royal Assent.

The change -- as of December 14, means drivers must switch on their lights a half hour before sunset and keep them on a half hour after sunrise. The Act previously required headlights be turned on 30 minutes after sunset until 30 minutes before sunrise.

The stipulation remains that lights be used any time when visibility is less than 150 metres.

"We have growing proof, that daylight use of headlights can significantly reduce the incidence of multiple vehicle collisions," Ontario Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow said. "Evidence from other jurisdictions also shows accidents involving motor vehicles and cyclists or pedestrians can be decreased if motorists keep their lights on longer."

"All provincial transportation ministers have agreed, therefore, to extend the 'lights on' period by another hour in the morning and evenings, when sun glare and traffic density are at their peak. It's a simple measure...one we believe will save lives."

The headlight legislation was just one of a package of HTA amendments passed by the Ontario legislature before its Christmas recess.

Another aimed at increasing the safety of Ontario's roads will require school bus drivers to have a clear view of 125 metres in both directions before stopping their bus on any highway or road. The same law currently applies to all other motorists.

"Several other changes have been made in an effort to clarify and standardize language in the Act," Snow said. "Most are of a house-keeping nature and will not affect the general public."

Damage rule rises

Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications officials have announced that the amount of property damage in reportable motor vehicle accidents was raised to $700 from $400, effective January 1, 1985.

The new minimum better reflects the continually increasing costs for parts and labour to repair motor vehicles which have been involved in accidents.

The $700 reportable accident/property damage level applies to all motor vehicles, including motorcycles and mopeds as well as off-road vehicles.

An MTC spokesman noted motorists should be aware that if they are involved in an accident which results in personal injury or property damage exceeding $700, they must report it to the police.

The last increase in the reportable accident/property damage level was in January of '78.

Committee sought to work with HCSA

Minden councillor Gary Kenney wants a committee established to keep area councils aware of the plans and financial commitments of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association. Kenney made the suggestion last Thursday when council considered a request from the HCSA for a $1000 grant to assist with wage costs of a federal make-work program. The grant was part of an agreement worked out between the HCSA and the councils of Lutterworth, Anson, Hindon and Minden, Stanhope and Dysart et al, who together matched a $92,000 Wintario grant to buy new grooming equipment for the association.

Kenney told council last Thursday that while he is not against helping the HCSA, he believes the municipality's financial support has gone beyond the level with which he feels "comfortable".

"It's an area of financial involvement that I'm very concerned about," Kenney said, noting that council might consider the $1000 payment as a loan rather than an outright grant. He urged council to establish how far it planned to go in assisting the HCSA in the future.

Reeve Lyle McKnight noted that while he agreed with Kenney's concerns, the $1000 grant from each of the four municipalities had been agreed to last year when an application for the winter works jobs was made.

McKnight noted that the HCSA "stood on their own feet for years," and said that with the help that has been provided by the municipalities recently, the club may soon be self-sufficient again.

Kenney said the $1000 grant "is not the issue". He argued for a formal committee to keep each of the four councils abreast of the HCSA's plans and needs over the next five years.

"Right now we don't know," he said. "We're getting it in bits and pieces."

McKnight said all members of the four councils have been invited to meetings with the HCSA executive, but Stanhope is the only municipality which has had at least two councillors at each session.

But Kenney emphasized that he is not happy with the concept of open meetings which all councillors are invited to attend.

"There's been no formal structuring of that committee, and yet commitments are being made," Kenney said. He noted that councillors who are unable to attend the meetings should not be "left out" and should have access to information about the HCSA's plans so any anticipated municipal assistance can be included in annual budgets. He suggested that the committee could be made up of two members of the HCSA and the four reeves.

"I have the fullest confidence in the snowmobile association," Kenney said. But he stressed that councillors in the four municipalities should be able to discuss the club's plans and the level of municipal commitment "intelligently".

Kenney's proposal is expected to receive further discussion. In the meantime, council voted to approve the $1000 grant as requested by the HCSA executive.

Minden won't rush by-laws

By-laws will no longer be given a cursory glance before being passed by Anson, Hindon and Minden council. On the recommendation of reeve Lyle McKnight, council decided last Thursday that from now on, by-laws will be given a first reading at the beginning of a meeting, with second and third readings to follow as the final items on the day's agenda.

It is a standard practice in small municipalities to read a by-law once, and consider it read a second and third time without further discussion. While this procedure seldom creates problems, McKnight told his council that some important matters may be glossed over if there is not sufficient time between first and subsequent readings of important by-laws.

Council supported McKnight's view of the matter, and lost little time putting it into practice. A by-law to regulate building in the municipality was to have been passed, but council decided to hold it over until its next meeting so that councillors could study it carefully before voting it into force.

Councillors get road responsibilities

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has reorganized its roads committee to give members responsibility for roads in specific areas of the municipality.

Because Minden does not have a ward system for electing councillors, complaints about road problems anywhere in the municipality have been passed on by local citizens to various councillors.

But under a scheme proposed by reeve Lyle McKnight and endorsed by council last Thursday, each councillor now will know what roads he or she is to monitor.

Councillor Gary Kenney's area will include every municipal road east of Highway 35 and north of Highway 121. Pat Burk will handle the area east of Highway 35 and south of Highway 121. Dave Stevens' area of responsibility will be the area west of Highway 35 with the exception of the village of Minden, which will be handled by deputy reeve Ed Pergolas.

such as the municipality's backhoe, is shared most effectively among the various departments.

Council will monitor the new position for several months before deciding to make it a permanent one within the municipality. Sisson will not receive an immediate pay raise for his new responsibilities.

A long tradition of democracy

Half a world and more than 2000 years of tumultuous history separate the city-states of ancient Greece and the nation of Canada, and yet the two have at least one fundamental similarity -- democracy. In the city-states of the Greek world, political decisions were made at public assemblies, and every citizen had a right to cast a vote. This kind of direct democracy has flourished little changed to the present day. In Switzerland, for example, every major issue is decided by a referendum process, and citizens are compelled by law to cast their ballots.

And yet even in the Greek world, in the cradle of democracy, there were people who believed that the common man was incapable of governing himself. Socrates argued for government by a benevolent elite, so that the best and the brightest of men could ensure a steady march toward an ever-greater culture and civilization.

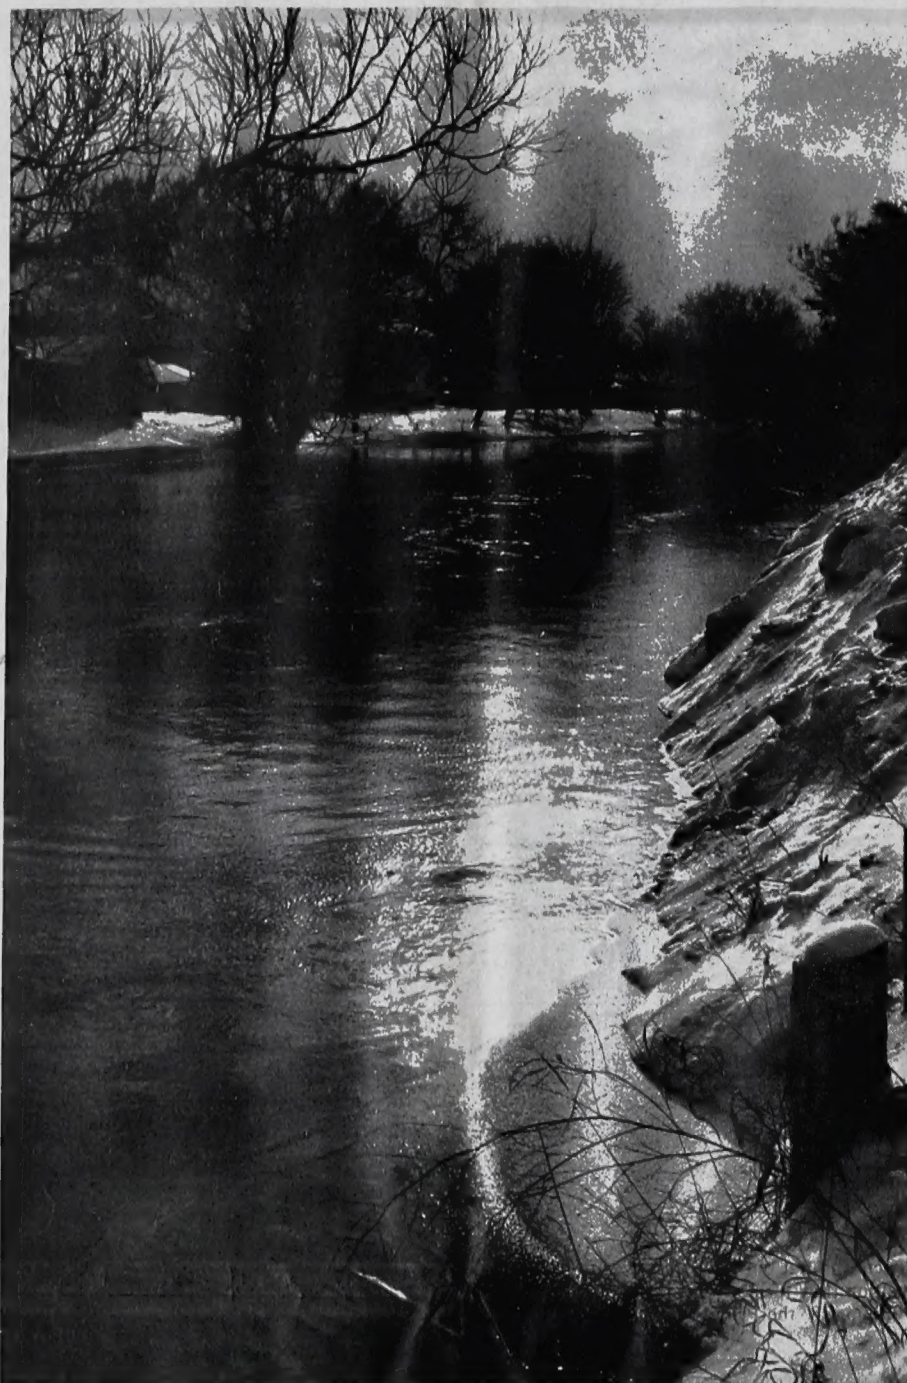

Democracy as a force for civilization vanished with the ancient Greeks, and it was not until the rise of the British democratic tradition that it reappeared with strength and vigour. By then the world had grown too large and the population too numerous for a direct democracy to work. Instead, men were chosen to represent the people's wishes in a parliament that would make the nations laws.

This tradition has expanded and reached downward to the core of Canadian life -- to the communities in which we live and work. To remind us of the importance of the democratic tradition and its impact on our society, the provincial officials have declared this week local government week in Ontario. And that being so, we should pause for a moment to consider what the elected bodies of Haliburton County make possible.

Municipal councils have a direct and measurable effect on the quality of life in local communities, whether it is the swiftness with which a pot hole on some back road is repaired or the controls that councils place on a multi-million dollar development proposed for some area lake. And yet there is too often a tendency to take municipal affairs for granted. Complaints are commonplace among ratepayers, but praise to councillors for a job well done is a rare thing. Local politicians are answerable in a direct way to the people who elect them, and that is the strength of democracy. But openness is not without penalty, particularly if local citizens fail to treat their elected representatives with reasonable courtesy and respect. It is right to keep a careful eye on municipal decisions, and to question councillors on the stands they take. But it is wrong to berate them on the street with idle criticism, or to telephone them at inconsiderate hours with issues that are far from urgent.

It should be remembered that those who answer the challenge of local politics are fundamentally volunteers. The money they are paid does not begin to compensate them for the time they give up in the service of the community. And yet year after year, local citizens come forward to sit on area councils, school boards, and the committees formed by them. And for the most part, the result is good and responsible government.

For that, every local citizen has reason to be grateful. Democracy isn't without flaws, but it is the political system which comes closest to striking a balance between freedom and responsibility. And no where is that more clearly seen than in local municipalities, where the people who govern are our neighbours and friends.

Spending priorities graphically shown

To the Editor:

I would like to add a rather graphic illustration to Michael Collins' reflections on the state of the Global Village.

The federal budget of the United States for 1985 is $687 billion. A group called Clergy and Laity Concerned in Eugene, Oregon has depicted various budget spending levels using a few buckets of paint and street pavement. At a scale of $40 million to the inch, the line for education is thirty-three feet long. The line for military spending is 398 feet long - three full blocks.

Yours sincerely,
Eric Lillius,
R.R. #1, Haliburton

To the Editor:

I am taking the liberty of writing to you to point out what must have been an oversight in your usually comprehensive newspaper.

Page three of the Minden Times reports on the particular honour granted the Monk Funeral Home as a result of excellence in service covering a wide area of Haliburton County. This is a signal achievement and should surely be recognized by both area papers?

It is my understanding that this world-wide membership is obtained only after rigorous investigation and that relatively few have been granted in this area of Ontario.

Yours truly,
Isabel Morton [Mrs.]

To the Editor:

About the picture of the group of people in the Pic of the Past of Wig-a-mog Inn 70 years ago: you made a mistake in one name. Mrs. John Wensley was not one of that group.

Sincerely,
Amy Wensley [Mrs. John]

In my view ...

Should we support Drought Appeal?

By JOHN JAMES

Someone from Haliburton County recently said to me "We should not send money over to Africa! We should look after our own people in need here in Canada." When I stopped to reflect on that statement my mind rolled back to an incident that is still seared on my memory.

A spring blizzard hit Windsor one Saturday night in March 1972. My (then) fiancé and I had tickets to a theatre production at the university. Driving was treacherous and we lived 10 miles away so we decided to take a city bus to our destination.

At the main intersection downtown an old man boarded the bus. He carried a bag of groceries in each arm. It was impossible not to notice him. With gaunt hollow cheeks, four days stubble of beard, a ripped and tattered overcoat, he looked as if he was a refugee from a recent war. He wore no gloves on that bitter, blistery night. My eyes focused on his hands. The knuckles were raw and red. Blood was caked on the cracks of the broken skin.

A thought flashed across my mind. "Give him

Brian Abbs of Haliburton dropped into my office one day last week with a dentist's appointment card that he handed to me and it looked like it had been dropped into a barrel of oil. I asked him where he dug this card from and he went on to tell me the story. It seems that on July 26, 1982 Dr. Bernard N. Crystal of the East York Medical Centre in Toronto posted a card to Nancy Charlton at Haliburton previous to her marriage to Brad Abbs. The post card was reminding her that it had been 1 1/2 years since her last dental checkup. Well after 2 1/2 years the post card arrived in Haliburton with a nice letter enclosed from Canada Post saying that they regret the damage done to her mail during handling by the Postal Service and they hope that the incident would not seriously inconvenience her. It arrived in Haliburton last Wednesday. We are guessing that the card got caught up in the mechanism of one of the sorting machines in Toronto and they just found it recently covered with oil.

We received word recently that Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home in Minden was accepted for membership in the International Order of the Golden Rule. We understand that only a limited number of funeral homes are selected for membership. For this reason, the Order carefully screens all prospects. The decision is based on recommendations made by families the firm has served and by other professionals in the area. The Order is comprised of funeral directors from all over the world who are dedicated to keeping in touch with the attitudes of the public. This is accomplished through regularly scheduled seminars and educational meetings at which attendance is required by all members. Dale L. Rollins, Executive Director of the Association stated, "To obtain membership in OGR, all prospects must provide their community with quality funeral service and merchandise at reasonable prices." Mr. Rollins in a news release stated that as a result of the positive response from the Minden area, Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, has proven its worthiness to be counted among their members.

The annual Skyline Bonspiel will be held at the Haliburton Curling Club this coming weekend. Rinks from all over Ontario will be coming to compete in this very popular spiel. This event has always produced some very good rinks and some very fine curling. This year should be no exception.

A good number of people from all sections of Haliburton County were in Minden over the past weekend to watch the Haliburton Highlands Sled Dog Derby.

If there is one thing that I can't stand it has to be public apathy. This idea that some people have of sitting back and letting George do it, because they don't want to get involved, is enough to make you sick. Public apathy is something that we have plenty of here in Haliburton County. How can we in all honesty, just sit back and say that everything is just fine and dandy here when we know that it just isn't so? Many people sit back and say, "Oh well, let it go, we can't do anything about it anyway." The real truth of the matter is that they can do something about it. Many of us hate to rock the boat but its just about time that we let our thoughts be known by speaking out on certain subjects. We know right well that everyone out there isn't satisfied with everything that goes on in the community, in government or in the organization they may be a member of. If you have a beef, why not bring it up at the next meeting, the next session of council or write a letter to your M.P. or M.P.P. Better still, why not sit right down and write a Letter to the Editor and have it published in the Haliburton County Echo. Let's not forget that this is what democracy is all about.

For one reason or the other public skating is really catching on this winter at the arena in Haliburton. Public skating which is held every Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. has been drawing large crowds every week. A record turnout was on hand on Sunday afternoon, January 6 when over 250 skaters covered the arena ice surface.

I received a letter recently from a former Haliburton resident, Bill Niemi, who now resides at Lakeland, Florida. It was a pleasure to hear from Bill and I was certainly encouraged when he told me in the letter not to try to change a single thought in my column because of some insignificant criticism. Thanks again for your letter.

May we once again remind all of the home owners in Minden and Haliburton to keep those Christmas lights up so that you can turn them on when carnival time arrives. The coloured lights seem to add a great deal to brighten up the festivities.

Here's your tip for the week. Never pull out of your driveway when your block heater is still plugged in. One day last week this happened to me when I forgot to unplug the lead-in wire before I drove off. The result was that the cord pulled out of the socket and some repairs had to be made to the cord before I was back in operation again.

Pic of the Past

This is a picture of St. George's Anglican Church, Haliburton's first church which was opened in the year 1865. The Rectory shown to the left of the photo still stands. According to Nila Reynolds in her book "In Quest of Yesterday" this white structure with its bell tower entrance which overlooked Head Lake, contained an organ donated by the widow of humourist Thomas Chandler Haliburton, who chose to perpetuate her husband's memory in a musical way. Its lovely tones led the weekly worship for half a century until Sunday morning, January 25, 1922 when the beloved building burned to the ground. The present Anglican Church of brick, similar in design, was constructed by Mr. E. Fetterley. It was opened by Bishop Sweeney of Toronto on the morning of October 24, 1923, in the presence of a large congregation which included the popular Rural Dean of Haliburton, the Rev. J. H. Stringer. St. George's congregation are planning to enlarge the present church and make extensive alterations to the interior of the building in the very near future. Our thanks this week to the Rev. John Phillips, the present Anglican minister, for submitting this photo.

Heroin and the Terminally Ill

I thought this would be a good opportunity to discuss a different subject, but one about which many people are interested and are beginning to discuss and ask questions.

There are many points to consider both for and against the medical use of heroin for terminally ill people. I would like to deal with this in a three-part series, and following this, I would be pleased to have comment from anyone wishing to express themselves.

Part I - Background to the Debate, and Arguments Supporting the Use of Heroin

The medical use of heroin in Canada was banned in 1955 (under the federal Narcotic Control Act), in response to the World Health Organization's recommendation that the world's nations prohibit the production, import and use of the drug. This recommendation was made in light of the increasing abuse of heroin as a street drug, and was intended to limit the availability of the drug for non-medical purposes.

The issue of whether or not heroin should be used as an analgesic (painkiller) in Canada was dormant following the 1955 decision. Recent advances in medical technology which have permitted the extension of the lives of terminally ill cancer patients have brought the problem of intractable pain more visibly to the public's attention. Debate has centred on the most efficient drugs to be used as analgesics in cases of terminal illness.

In particular, controversy over the illegality of heroin as an analgesic, in both Canada and the United States, has mounted. A growing number of doctors, members of the public and politicians are speaking out in favour of heroin for victims of terminal cancer. In Canada, an Act was recently passed which allows the medical use of heroin. Advocates claim that heroine is superior to analgesics currently used in North America in that it produces a greater sense of euphoria for individuals suffering intractable pain, without side effects causing nausea. Their enthusiasm is not unchallenged.

The debate in Canada was publicly initiated in March 1981 when medical journalist Dr. Kenneth Walker, writing under the pseudonym W. Gifford-Jones M.D., in his syndicated column

"The Doctor Game", described the painful death of his terminally ill father. He argued that his father's death would have been easier if his doctors had been permitted to administer heroin. The response from readers was overwhelming as individuals wrote to either echo support for or to dissent against the use of heroin.

On July 16, 1982 Dr. Walker met with the Honourable Monique Bégin, the then Minister of Health and Welfare Canada, in Ottawa, and presented her with 15,000 letters supporting the use of heroin for terminally ill patients. In response to the petition the Expert Advisory Committee on the Management of Severe Pain was established to consider the matter.

Studies have shown that heroin is more soluble than morphine (an analgesic used for intractable pain in Canada). This increased solubility allows more heroin to be dissolved in a given solution than morphine. The medical virtue of heroin's solubility has been recognized in Britain by its use in a heroin-cocaine solution which can be taken orally, called a Brompton Cocktail. The cocktail is a pleasant tasting preparation which can be self-administered regularly in sufficient doses and at frequent intervals to produce and maintain effective analgesia. Although the cocktail can also be prepared with morphine and cocaine, the greater solubility of heroin, coupled with two and one-half times greater potency than morphine, is thought by some to be an important combination. Supporters also claim that heroin is superior to morphine when injections are required. When patients are unable to take oral medication, or have no veins left for needles because of chemotherapy or the prolonged use of intravenous medication, an intramuscular injection is often the only way for patients to receive painkillers. The required dosage of heroin compared to morphine is smaller and less frequent for both oral administrations and injections when a patient is unable to receive the analgesic orally.

It is also argued that patients react differently to drugs, making it sensible for doctors to have the maximum number of drugs available to treat cancer pain. No single drug or procedure is always or almost always best for every patient.

Report from Parliament

By Bill Scott M.P.

In the election last September, the people of Canada gave an overwhelming mandate to the Rt. Hon. Brian Mulroney. There was no doubt that this was a mandate for change. You, the citizens of this great country, were looking for a new direction, the kind of new direction that only real change can bring about.

Some of the initiatives we have already introduced will slash government spending and encourage investment which will in turn create jobs and reduce the massive deficit. It is quite understandable that some public servants who were most closely associated with the formulation of the policies of former governments would not be expected to put our new initiatives in place in the position they formerly held.

On January 8, The Prime Minister, recognizing the need for revitalization at the top of the Public Service, announced the largest reorganization of Deputy Minister and Senior Officials ever performed by a new Prime Minister with the promise of even more shifts to come late in the year. These moves are another step in giving you a real change in policies and priorities in Ottawa. Not only do we have a new political administration that is in charge, but also we have many newly appointed bureaucratic administrators as well.

On January 8, The Hon. Perrin Beatty, Minister of National Revenue, announced a change to his department's treatment of Workers' Compensation awarded to injured workers who receive payments which are more generous than the amount of a Workers' Compensation award. Up to now, if the full amount of an injured worker's wages was guaranteed by an employer, or if the percentage of wages paid to a worker was greater than the percentage of salary payable as Workers' Compensation, the entire amount paid was taxed. As a result of this change an injured worker will only be taxed on any amount received from an employer which exceeds the amount of Workers' Compensation awarded. Employees taxed on the equivalent of Workers' Compensation since 1982 can apply to National Revenue Taxation for refunds.

From the Chamber

The plans for the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association Snowmobile Snowcross are in place and ready to go on the Saturday of carnival weekend.

The race committee have worked long and hard to provide the community with an excellent race program, and they now have a $1500 grand prize purse to offer to the many competitors expected to arrive from the United States and Canada. Race day activities will include an opportunity for young people (14 to 17 years) to race snowcross on snowmobiles provided by Prentice-Berry Ltd. and Bombardier Ski-doo for a minimal fee of $6 per entry. This activity is expected to draw as many as 100 competitors from the surrounding area. Please note that the junior snowcross requires a waiver signed by parents or guardian and pre-registration at Prentice-Berry Ltd. in Minden.

We are hoping that this will be a successful activity for HCSA, since all proceeds are going to the snowmobile trail grooming efforts. Silkolene Lubricants and Bombardier Ski-doo are the major sponsors of the event. Inquiries regarding race day activities should be directed to 705-286-2750 or 705-286-2946. For long distance inquiries call 416-549-1370.

your gloves." I argued with my conscience "I can't do that. There are all kinds of people on this bus. They will think I'm grandstanding, trying to appear like a good guy."

The thought came a second time, only not it took the force of a command. "Give him your gloves! You have another pair at home. He doesn't have any. Give him yours. Do it." My defenses were up. "No way. I will not do it. Maybe he will feel embarrassed. Maybe he will refuse my offer. I will not take the risk."

Again the inner voice persisted. "Go on. Now is the time. Move. Do it now!"

I inched forward on the seat. Just as I was about to yield to that message reverberating through my spirit, the signal bell rang. The bus stopped and the man was off and gone. Gone forever from me. But not from my memory.

The old man with the weathered hands returns to me now and then.

He returned with that Haliburtonian's comment. And I have to agree that we should look after needs in our own community. That means we need a social services network as well as individual acts of kindness and generosity.

But the old man also returns to me when I see the figure of a black man in Africa (why is it that the whites never starve?) with his hand, gaunt, reaching out for help. Does it matter if the person with the need is from Minden, Mozambique, from Eagle Lake or Ethiopia? I think not.

And the old man returns when I hear the words of a refugee whose parents fled with him as a baby. It was Jesus who said, "I was hungry and you gave me nothing to eat...I needed clothes and you did not clothe me...I tell you the truth, whatever you did not do for one of the least of these, you did not do for me." (Matthew 25:42,45)

On a wintry night in Windsor, Christ came to me and I refused him a pair of gloves. In my view, to say 'no' to Africa's need is to say 'no' to God and 'no' to humanity.

Emmerson Lumber defeated at hands of Bishop & Wilson

Emmerson Lumber's season-long undefeated streak has ended at nine wins. The lumber team came out on the low end of a 9 - 7 score Monday night in a match against second place Bishop and Wilson.

It was a close battle until the last half of the third period when the surveyors moved well out in front and the lumber team tried unsuccessfully to come back.

Rick Wood scored the only goal of the first period, with 4:46 left on the clock, to put Bishop and Wilson on the board. Assisting on the play were Ken Riley and Luke Schell.

The surveyors added another goal only 25 seconds into the second period, as Jim Winn tallied with help from Ed Davis and Riley.

Less than three minutes into the period Bishop and Wilson moved into a three-goal lead when Riley scored with help from Rick Wood.

Emmerson Lumber finally got on the board just past the five-minute mark as Tom Curry and Steve Roberts teamed up for the goal.

Bishop and Wilson regained their three-goal advantage with 6:44 left in the second period when Rick Wood skated in on a solo effort to beat Vince Duchene in the lumber team's net.

The final five minutes of the period saw Emmerson Lumber surge back to within one goal as Kim Emmerson beat Kevin Finch with 4:48 left, assisted by Jim Burk and Gary Burtch, and Tom Curry got his second of the night with 12 seconds left in the period, assisted by Phil Barry and Steve Barker.

A minute and 20 seconds into the third period, Emmerson Lumber tied the match at four apiece when Gary Burtch tallied with help from Jim Burk.

Three minutes later, with 15:43 remaining on the clock, Luke Schell put Bishop and Wilson in the lead once again with help from Rick Wood. Only 26 seconds later, Tom Curry got his third of the night and Emmerson Lumber was once again tied with the surveyors. Steve Roberts and Drew Carey were credited with assists on the play.

The furious pace of the game continued, with only 27 seconds elapsing before Bishop and Wilson regained the lead on a marker by Jim Winn, assisted by Rick Wood.

The surveyors refused to relinquish the lead this time, and moved quickly to build up their advantage.

With 8:52 remaining, Riley, Schell and Ed Davis teamed up to make it 7 - 5, and with 3:05 left on the clock, Rick Wood completed the hat trick with help from Riley and Jerry Walker.

Emmerson Lumber rallied in the late going to move within one goal of the surveyors, as Gary Burtch scored with help from Burk and Emmerson, and Steve Barker tallied with help from Curry.

But the surveyors hung on to their 8 - 7 lead, and with just eight seconds left on the clock, Ken Riley got the insurance marker for Bishop local boys put on a strong showing and sent the visitors down to a 5-3 defeat.

Atoms beat Little Britain

The Haliburton OMHA Atoms had a busy week playing both away and at home. On Tuesday the Atoms went to Bobcaygeon, only to come up short by a 5 to 4 score.

Derek Wilson opened the scoring for Haliburton at the two-minute mark of the first period. In the second period Bobcaygeon scored three in a row. Chris Greenfield got Haliburton within one goal in a solo effort with 53 seconds left in the period. At the two-minute mark of the third Jeff Black tied the game for Haliburton with Mike Billings getting the assist.

Haliburton seemed to let up for just a minute and Bobcaygeon scored two quick goals. Derek Wilson scored his second of the game two minutes later but it wasn't enough and Bobcaygeon won the game with a 5 to 4 count. On Saturday, it was a different story as Haliburton played one of their best games of the year defeating the league leading Little Britain Atoms by a 5 to 3 score.

Until this game Little Britain were undefeated.

Haliburton got on the scoreboard first with 20 seconds left in the period on a goal by Jeff Black with the assist going to Derek Wilson.

At the two-minute mark of the second period Jeff Black scored again with the assist again going to Derek Wilson. Chris Greenfield then made a good play at the blue line to keep the puck in, then made a good shot to put Haliburton up by three. Greg Stamp opened the scoring in the third period on a nice shot from the left side with Derek Wilson getting his third assist of the game.

Little Britain got on the score board at the nine-minute mark. Jason Casey then out-hustled two Little Britain players to make the score 5 to 1.

Little Britain rallied for two later in the period making the final 5 to 3 for Haliburton.

Haliburton has two home games this week, Friday at seven against Ops and Saturday at 4:00 p.m. against Woodville.

Two Haliburton OMHA Atom players scramble up from a collision in their own end during a game Saturday afternoon at the Dysart arena. The local team defeated previously undefeated Little Britain in the contest.

Dog sled derby brings winter thrill

Dog sled racing came to Minden for the first time over the weekend, and the event proved to be a huge success. Some 50 teams from Ontario, Quebec and New York State turned up for two days of competition sponsored jointly by the municipality and Minden's Business Improvement Area merchants.

Crowds began milling through the staging area on the former Welch property up to two hours before the races were scheduled to get underway, and by noon, the main street thronged with spectators eager to experience the excitement of an unusual and demanding sport.

Competition was organized in two classes, teams of up to eight dogs which would cover a looping, eight-mile course on both days, and teams of up to four dogs which would travel a four-mile route on each day. Winners were the 'mushers' and teams with the lowest total elapsed time over the two days.

Racers set off at time intervals down a snow-covered chute roped off on main street, the dogs barking, leaping and straining at their traces until the start signal was given. Once underway, the dogs lunged into the spirit of the race, answering instantly to the steering commands shouted out by each 'musher'. Competitors covered a route that included several miles of Haliburton County Snowmobile Association trails groomed and closed off for the exclusive use of the teams. The finishing stretch brought the teams back down Bobcaygeon Road, over the Gull River bridge and onto the main street chute, where elapsed times were recorded.

Lee Gilchrist of Brechin took first place in the eight-dog class with a total time of 63 minutes and 42 seconds. Close behind in second place was Maurice Poirier of Quyon, Quebec in 64:51.

In third place was Steve Loughheed of Lochlin, a principal organizer of the event. Loughheed finished in 66:48.

Fourth place went to Ron Smith of Victor, New York with a time of 67:42.

Fifth was Joe Bawden of Stroud in 68:56.

In the four-dog class the winner was Tom Soper of Chesley, Ontario in 41:15.

Second went to Kim LeBlanc of Waubeshene in 43:26.

Third was Ken Heald of Morriston, Ontario in 43:56.

Fourth place went to Betty Maxson of Glenfield, New York in a time of 44:12.

Fifth was Ed Rivett of Whitby in 44:17.

Total prize money for the weekend was $1200.

Skiing Glebe Park

By JIM MILNE

Cold weather and a find dusting of snow must have brought all the XC trails in the county close to their best conditions. And this includes the Glebe Park loop.

The local ski club worked hard on this trail in its early years, but later it fell into disuse as better maintained trails became popular. One section, only, was used for access to the Jim Beef Trail, but this past fall a bulldozer and tree cutting crew have made big changes both east and west of the Jim Beef shortcut.

I skied it three times in the week up to Sunday, January 13. Before the cold weather and snow three or four wet spots and some bothersome ruts left, perhaps, by the treads of the bulldozer detracted from an otherwise entertaining ski outing. With the better conditions, however, a number of attractive features became prominent.

You can get on the trail either from Head Lake or from the museum. It takes two hours at most and can be easily shortened. Bob Heyes, the trail supervisor, hasn't graded it yet for difficulty but perhaps the west branch will be of intermediate (blue) difficulty while the east branch will be of advanced (red) difficulty. The east branch as it draws close to Highway 118 at the Municipal Garage has as steep a hill as the biggest one southeast of the PineStone Inn. The Glebe Park hill is shorter but it has a left turn at the bottom.

With a little more effort this could be a great trail. I have already mentioned ruts and wet spots. The run out to the Beaconbrook is dangerous. It looks as though it has been abandoned but it could provide another short easy downhill exit from the loop. The trail is fine now but it could deteriorate quickly with adverse skiing conditions. Otherwise, people hoping to use it to get on the Jim Beef Trail could be disappointed. It wasn't open as of Sunday afternoon, January 13. I hope, however, to try the Jim Beef and report on it next week.

Jeff Black of the Haliburton OMHA Atoms watches his shot go into the Little Britain net during first period action at the Dysart arena Saturday afternoon.

The local team skated to a win on the strength of some good play making.

Pee Wees outscore Bobcaygeon club

Kyle Hewitt with four goals and John Vuksic with three goals led Haliburton's OMHA Pee Wees to a 10 - 6 decision over Bobcaygeon last Tuesday, January 8.

In first period action Wade Wood scored unassisted, John Vuksic tallied, assisted by Wade Wood and Jason Billings netted one, assisted by Jason Morissette. Bobcaygeon tallied two goals in the first period.

Second period action belonged to Haliburton with goals coming from Kyle Hewitt assisted by John Vuksic and Craig Bain; John Vuksic assisted by Wade Wood and Kyle Hewitt; John Vuksic assisted by Russell Morrison; and Kyle Hewitt assisted by Wade Wood and Shaun Perrin.

Third period action was a see-saw battle between the two teams. Goals came from Kyle Hewitt assisted by Wade Wood and Shaun Perrin, Kyle Hewitt assisted by Jamie Paradie, and Jeff Anderson assisted by Shaun Perrin. Bobcaygeon accounted for with four goals.

This past weekend Haliburton Pee Wees took part in the Minden tournament. Their first game was against Newcastle. After 30 minutes of regular play the game was tied at 1 - 1. At the 3:36 mark of the overtime period Jason Morissette assisted by Jason Billings scored the winning goal. With a super glove hand, Hans Fluegel made dazzling saves to keep Newcastle off the score board.

The second game saw Haliburton face off against Huntsville. Again Fluegel made some impressive saves, much to Huntsville's dismay. Haliburton's John Vuksic with a hat trick led Haliburton to a 3 - 2 decision over Huntsville.

The third game saw Haliburton face off Fenelon Falls. This was not to be Haliburton's game as they lost 4 - 0. The boys tried their best but were unable to place the puck in Fenelon's net.

Emmerson Lumber is beaten for the first time and Wilson, capping a 9 - 7 win.

The loss left Emmerson Lumber with a league leading nine; and one record, while the survey team moved to a 6 - 4 record that gives them a solid hold on second place.

Third place tie

Third and fourth place remain up for grabs as Haliburton Lumber and Curry Motors struggle with each other for the final two placings. Monday's 10 - 7 result, in favour of the lumbermen, put the teams back into deadlock at two wins, six losses and one tie apiece.

Curry Motors got off to a quick start in the opening period, notching goals by Rob Abbs, Derrell Stamp and Wells Robertson in the first nine minutes. The lumbermen came back with three of their own, however, two from Dean Curry and the other from Wayne Ellison to leave the teams tied at three going into the second period.

Curry made it 4 - 3 for Haliburton Lumber early in the second frame, but Abbs responded quickly for Curry Motors to tie the game at four.

Nearing the nine-minute mark, Kevin Newell put the lumber team in front, and the advantage held until 14:42, when Derrell Stamp re-established the deadlock.

With 2:19 left in the second period Dean Curry tallied for Haliburton Lumber to make the score 6 - 5 in their favour.

In the first half of the third period the lumber team stretched their lead with four more goals, from Curry, Ellison, Newell and Paul Morissette.

Curry Motors got two more in the final 10 minutes, from Stamp and Gary Brohman, but it left them on the trailing end of a 10 - 7 score.

Novice White remains unbeaten

Haliburton's Novice White team remains undefeated, easily outpointing every opponent thanks largely to the scoring abilities of the Morissette twins, Mark and Kevin.

On Saturday, January 5 the local boys were at home for a game against Apsley, a team they had totally dominated in an earlier match. To make the game more competitive, Haliburton White gave Apsley two players, and the result was still a 5 - 3 win for Haliburton.

Mark Morissette notched all five Haliburton goals, while Kevin Morissette played for Apsley and scored one of the visitors' three goals.

On Monday, January 7, Haliburton White took on Haliburton Blue, with the white team skating to a 4 - 2 win. Mark and Kevin Morissette each accounted for two goals, with assists going to Tim Stouffer, Mike Hartwick and Jackie Morrison.

Mark Stamp scored the blue team's goals, assisted by Colin Morrison and Tim Keefer.

A friend in need...is a friend indeed...

If one is lucky, and I consider that we are, one tends to make many new friends at various stages in their lives. When, as a child, you first start school, when you move on to high school, when you graduate, and go to college or university, and when you begin your first, and subsequent jobs.

One also makes a raft of new acquaintances when they move from place to place. Thus, we have achieved the ultimate...a whole new country full of friends. Of course that's a slight exaggeration. But after this last week, that's the way I feel.

Roget's Thesaurus gives many synonyms for friend. A friend can be an acquaintance, a neighbour, a partner, comrade, companion, confidant, sympathizer, ally, partisan, and a friend in need. Friendship is synonymous with smity, brotherhood, harmony, concord and peace. You name it, they all came to our rescue.

Let's face it, emergencies never happen when it's convenient. They happen on the coldest day of the winter, when the car is as frozen as the beef in your freezer because someone forgot to plug it in. So, you reluctantly get your neighbour, who works nights, out of a nice warm bed to take you on a quick run to the hospital. And he's there to pick you up in five minutes, and wants to know if he should wait for you in town.

Relatives, who are also friends, take turns caring for a confused and frightened child, even though it alters their plans. "Don't worry, we'll keep him overnight." Once, so I could go shopping, (I'm too old to drag a three-year old through town with 25 pounds of snow gear) and twice to go to Peterborough.

A new relative and friend of my daughter's gives one whole day off to keep her company in a strange city, when she needs someone to talk to, and a shoulder. Then the same friend gives up another whole day off to bring my daughter home, when those who should, couldn't.

Then, there's the little niggling chores that have to be done no matter what. And you don't even get the chance to ask, because your neighbour just takes over, and says not to worry about them.

There's the doctors and nurses in Haliburton and Peterborough, who take the time to explain away your fears. The ambulance drivers, who handle their patient with tender care. The well-wishers, who send cards or flowers, and even just caring thoughts.

We can only offer you all our deepest thanks for being there when you were needed. And offer, too, our friendship, and to be there in return.

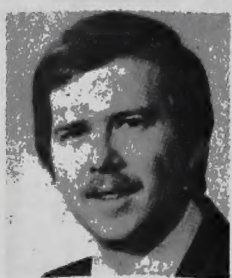

By the way, our daughter is going to be fine. Thanks.

Games of 200 and over were bowled by Marylou Bird, 205; Harry Henderson, 218, 212, 611 triple; Audrey Fountain, 205; Freida Handy, 205; Ev Stata, 219, 263, 660 triple; Sandra Barr, 214; Sybil Hunt, 218; Dorothy Baker, 210, 210, 215, 635 triple; Kay Barry, 251, 203, 233, 681 triple; Joan Alger, 250; Fran Woods, 203; Gord Martin, 223.

We now have in stock both adult and children sizes. They are designed to fit over your nose and mouth while you are going from a warm place, such as your home, to your car or while you walk a short distance. They are especially helpful to people who have chest or heart problems as they prevent very cold air from entering your lungs. They should be worn no longer than 10 to 15 minutes as they are not oxygen masks. (We thank Muriel Osborne for assembling our new supply.)

Dear readers, our lovely Christmas decorations have all come down and our home looks rather bare. So many residents have the flu and don't seem to care. I thought I might miss it, but I have it too. So all around this place things are rather blue. However, the days are lengthening out and I hope we all soon feel better.

We are getting more snow so winter is here to stay. It's good weather for the skidoos and skiers anyway.

I had to miss the chapel service Sunday night, something I don't like to do. I had a bad cold and was feeling sorry for myself. They said Rev. Burgess wasn't feeling too well himself.

We have Doris back with us again after a week's holiday. She said she was sick all the time she was away.

Helen Lee was the lonely cleaning lady today. Brenda Tilly was off sick. Linda showed us two movies Monday night, 'Grey Ghost of Saskatchewan' and 'Rail Rider', which were quite a sight.

Doris Robertson took over for Rev. Wicks with a little persuasion. Our girls Tuesday are always ready to fill in for any occasion.

Congratulations we would like to say to Annie Cox. We're sorry she had to go to hospital on her 92nd birthday.

Tuesday afternoon we played the quiz game between teams B and A. There was just one point between us today.

Wednesday afternoon, our ladies were working in the craft room. The ones who were able to work were knitting socks and scarfs and making quilt blocks.

Wednesday night Earl Cooper came to play the fiddle. Eleanor played the piano and Gordon Ruttle the drum. They played fine music and really had things humming. They played Scottish songs which were enjoyed by everyone. We thank you for coming on this cold winter's night and look forward to the next time you will call.

Down at fun and fitness we play a different game each day. Tedd Carr won the game we played yesterday. Edith Welch won the game we played today.

The ladies of West Guilford, St. Andrew's Church, brought and served lunch this Thursday afternoon. To pay them back in some small way we played a few lively tunes. It is so nice that a different group comes in each week no matter what the weather and we have this social time together.

Guild News

In this column, we send our congratulations to several of our Guild members for their recent achievements. Marta Vandervel, an avid silk painter, attended several out of town Christmas craft sales. She found that she enjoyed the crowds and benefited financially from the further selling exposure.

Kevin Dunlop, our marquetry craftsman, also attended Christmas craft sales this year. He was very successful at the Ottawa sale which draws a very large crowd.

Just recently, three of our local painters, Mary Hastings, Chuck O'Neil and Gwen Kirchner entered their work in the East Central Artists Association competition. The work of all three artists was accepted and is currently hanging in an exhibition at the Whetung Art Gallery at Curve Lake and Art Space in Peterborough.

In December, Thelma Dair, a Guild potter, won first prize in the Agens Jamieson Gallery competition for her hand-built container.

As you can see, our Guild members are active and we are proud of their successes. Congratulations everyone!

Don't forget about "Hats and More Hats", a free to members workshop on January 30. This workshop will include instruction in the basic elements of hat making. Non-members are welcome. Cost for the day is $15 and includes a one-year membership. Call Chris at 457-1690 to register.

The Gallery will re-open on Friday, February 15 with "Haliburton Past and the Winter Carnival Sale".

Come out and enjoy the evening. Everyone is welcome.

Why not drop in for a browse at your local library. They now have a number of large print editions which will be a great help to folks with visual problems.

Percy Sherman would like to thank all his friends and relatives for their calls, cards and the lovely fruit basket. A special thank you goes out to the Minden ambulance drivers, Dr. Good, the nurses and doctors at Ross Memorial Hospital who took such good care of him during his recent illness. Percy is now home and coming along well.

Happy, though belated, best wishes to Ernie and Vivian Anderson who celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 30. One of their sons and his wife came to the house and invited them to go out to a restaurant for dinner with them by way of a celebration. This lovely couple ended up being taken to the Pentathlon Restaurant and Tavern in Lindsay where 30 family members waited. They had a lovely dinner and later spent a pleasant couple of hours at the home of the son Gary and his wife, Carol Anderson near Lindsay. Viv isn't over the shock of it all and would like to thank all her family for the beautiful surprise. Bring your special valentine to Branch 519, Canadian Legion in Cobocok on Saturday, February 14. Is there anyone in Cobocok area who will be willing to give a little of their time to help out our seniors and shut-ins? The Kinmount and area Meals on Wheels program is going very well and seems to be very much appreciated. Our president received a phone call from a "Coby" resident asking if the meals couldn't once again begin in his town. Before anything can be done, drivers and helpers are needed in the Cobocok district and then further arrangements can be made. Recent dinner guests of Mrs. Frances Farrow and family were her father, Austin Cavanagh of Bobcaygeon, her nephews, Steven and Kenny Hilyer of Burey's Green, her sister, Jean Hilyer, and Mark Newman of Kinmount.

I was sorry to hear that Garnet and Joyce Paull are both on the sick list.

Ed Nesbitt and family of Oshawa, Ron Nesbitt and family, all of Port Stanley, and Norman Nesbitt and family of Lindsay were recent visitors of Mrs. Frances Nesbitt.

Rev. Art Bartlett, his wife Ruth and son Timothy of Lindsay, were Sunday dinner visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver.

Sincere sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. Lettie Wessell who died this past week. Lettie had not been well for some time and died in hospital.

I see the youngsters are skating on the "Pond" again, the area of the beach and tennis court. This is lots of fun for young folk but I hope they do not venture too far out from shore. The past week has been very cold and the ice is thickening. I'm the ice is thickening, I'm sure, but still caution is needed. Friday night, I watched our little grandson skating at the arena in Lindsay and recalled when our own youngsters skated in the old Coby arena. They had a lot of fun and we knew they would not be in danger, as when one skates on a lake. Why isn't there some arena facilities available in our own town? Instead, kids must travel to Fenelon Falls or Lindsay if they wish to skate. We sure need a community centre here and I wish there were some way to initiate a strong force to bring this about. Those young folk at the Lindsay arena were so enthusiastic, waiting their turn to get out on the ice, when time was up for a previous group.

Tree removal crews are busy cutting up small trees and brush around our streets thus removing potential hazards to our phone and hydro lines.

Township crews have also cleared away snow from our main street sidewalks. To date, we have not had any severe snowstorms and yet, we have plenty of snow for snowmobilers and for skiing. Let's hope the snowfall is on "hold" as I do not appreciate the snow shovelling task!

Mrs. Maizie Kelly of Lindsay spent a few days with Bernie and Gordon Travis over the New Year holidays and attended the New Year's party at the Legion Hall.

Mrs. Edna Pearce is staying with her daughter and family, Lois Taylor, in Oshawa following her illness in Oshawa hospital.

Jim MacKenzie enjoyed visits from several of his relatives from Sudbury over the long holidays.

We have a pure white male cat that has been around our place for the last two months. I feed him all he can eat twice a day and he chooses to stay around in our woodshed. I bring him in to eat but otherwise he is out. If he is your cat, don't feel we are trying to "steal" him, but I just cannot bear to see an animal starving. Perhaps he is here to stay, and we really do not mind, but he is here if he is your cat. He has really filled out and is a big fellow now.

"Don't mind criticism. If it is untrue, disregard it; if it is unfair, don't let it irritate you; if it is ignorant, smile; if it is justified, learn from it".

This is the lull after the storm or the quiet time after all of the festivities over the Christmas and New Year's holiday. Various people are taking off on cruises and vacations in the south but we will find out about those events when they return home. I hope that I can get into some local activities for next week's column.

We have had the first real cold spell that lasted the better part of the week and the local garage was kept busy getting cars started on the sub-zero mornings. A number of the local citizens have been suffering from severe colds as well as flu knocking people out for a period of time. Brisk, cold weather is supposed to eliminate the germs that cause these things so they should be killed dead by this time. I don't know whether I put much faith in this old wife's tale. I see a number of dogs wandering around despite the cold weather, but they warn you on T.V., be sure and bring your pets in at night as they can't stand the cold. So I hope everyone pays attention and does this.

On Wednesday the 9th, my neighbour across the water from me called to tell me there was a rainbow in the sky in back of my house. I looked out my kitchen window and there it was, a very unusual phenomenon in the winter. If anyone knows if this event has any significance, or if it indicates anything in our future weather please let me know.

We wish Marg Walkden a happy birthday on January 18 and hope she is enjoying herself during her cruise with Art on the south seas. Also we would like to say a very happy birthday to Samantha Black who celebrates her 9th birthday on January 20.

Get well wishes are extended to Valerie McEachern who has had some medical problems lately.

Norland News

By KELLY GRAHAM

Hi! It looks as if winter is finally here to stay. Just when I was beginning to think we could forego winter this year in came winter's storms, smashing my hopes of year-round good weather.

Here's some news from Norland Public School. The top sellers in chocolate bar sales are Lenny Gill, grade seven and Jason Chynoweth, grade six. There will be a home and school meeting on January 16 at seven o'clock p.m. Constable Craig Black of the OPP will be the guest speaker. He will be presenting a program on street-proofing children. A video presentation titled "Strong Kids - Safe Kids" will be shown and discussed.

The pupils raised $51.53 for the Ethiopian Relief Fund. The money was given to OXFAM.

My sympathies to three local people who have lost loved ones recently. Ingram Wessell, of Norland recently lost his mother, Lorne Sleeman of Norland lost his father and the brother of Jim Magee, of Norland died recently. The late Mr. Magee was also father to Hughie, of Norland and Peter, Richard and Kirk of Coboconk.

We all love to watch and feed the ducks on Gull River in Coboconk. However, during the winter the feeding responsibilities lie heavily on the shoulders of certain individuals. Joan and Ken Bowins of Coboconk have approximately 75 ducks waiting to be fed each day. The financial burden is enormous as the food is costing them over $11 a week. If you wish to donate something, however small, please send it to Joan and Ken Bowins, Box 111, Coboconk, K0M 1K0. Luckily, Pat Watson, a Coboconk resident was not injured in a recent collision with a snowmobile.

Well, that's all that's on the agenda this week. See you next week.

The pre-Christmas rush ruled out plans for a baby shower for Brenda Coty. Baby has now arrived and the shower will be held at the Tory Hill Recreation Centre on Monday, January 21 at 7:30 p.m. All friends are invited to attend.

The next Neighbourhood Watch meeting will be held at the Memorial Centre on Tuesday, January 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Sixteen teams took part in the Tri-County hockey tournament held at the Wilberforce arena over the weekend.

The event was sponsored by the Wilberforce hockey team. There was a large crowd in attendance to cheer for their favourite contenders. Final results proved the team from Beaverton to be the A champions with Broadworth Construction coming through as the B champions.

CHACE Place News

By ERIC LILIUS

CHACE is a pretty empty place on Saturdays. We would like to extend an invitation to families, especially fathers and kids, to come and use our facilities. We're open between 10 and 2.

Thursdays and Fridays for the rest of the month will be devoted to outdoor activities. We're going to make good use of the cold weather and the snow now that it has decided to stick around. On January 17 and 18 we'll be playing games and sliding. On January 24 and 25 we'll be building ice castles by freezing water in various shaped containers and then putting them together. They look like jewels in the sun. We need interesting shapes that we can use as moulds: stopped-up funnels, milk cartons, cake pans, muffin tins, plastic containers, etc. Let's hope for cold weather; maybe we can make a kingdom of castles.

Wednesday morning are times for exercising muscles and vocal cords. We all need to stretch and bend; body tensions are eased and general health is better if you gently extend yourself beyond your habitual movements. We all know this but we don't take the time.

CHACE has highchairs, booster seats, strollers, infant and child car seats, cribs, cradles, backpacks, etc., available for rental. When you have little ones coming to visit, when you have a grandchild to drive around, when everyone wants the highchair, please call. The rentals are not expensive and the equipment is there to be used.

There is a schedule of activities in the classifieds that you can cut out. Come and participate or feel free to call if you need information. We have: many ideas on home-made crafts and play materials; books on parenting, pregnancy and breastfeeding; and a lending library of excellent toys. All drop-in facilities and activities are free to the user, but you must be a member of CHACE to sign out toys and books. Membership fees amount to a dollar a month per family paid annually.

The community and former residents were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Barbara (Newell) Hancock of Lindsay. Barbara was very well-known in the area from her work with the Carnarvon Laundry and the now, Reflections restaurant. Our regrets and deepest sympathy to her family.

Bud Thomas was in Toronto last week undergoing some medical tests. Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKay spent a couple of weeks in the north at their cottage on Mattagami Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Les

Dennison of Toronto were weekend guests of Mrs. Grace Renouf.

Our best wishes to West Clarke who was a patient in Haliburton and Peterborough hospitals. Mr. Clarke is home now and we hope he will soon be well enough to be out and about.

There will be a neighbourhood watch meeting on January 31 at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall. The signs are soon to be erected and it is hoped all interested parties will attend.

Agricultural News

By CHRISTINE DUKELOW

Time is a non-renewable resource. How often have you begun a statement with "If only I had more time..." If one of your New Year's resolutions was to learn to use time more effectively, then circle Wednesday, January 16 on your calendar. Farm and Home Management Day of the East Central Farm Conference is featuring a morning workshop on time management. Brian Goudge, the workshop leader, will be offering many practical and useful tips for busy farm women. What are the biggest time wasters in your life - the telephone, meetings, drop-in visitors or emergencies? Simple techniques that will help you reduce the time lost through these will be presented during the two-hour lecture and workshop format.

The afternoon program centres around Family Concerns of the 80's. A panel will discuss "The Issue of Battered Spouses", "Child Care in Rural Areas", and "Teens and the Law". The panel members, Connie McKay, Crossroads, Peterborough, Constable John Lathangue, OPP Lindsay, and Molly McGhee, Advisor, Rural Women's Programs will lead discussion sessions following the panel presentations.

Farm and Home Management Day begins with coffee and registration at 9:30 a.m. and concludes at 3:15 p.m. The $10 registration fee, payable at the door, includes a hot beef dinner. The program is being held in the Conference Room of the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Pasture Management Improves Gains

Rotating is the key to improved gains on pasture. This was the message from Walker Riley speaking at the Victoria Community Pasture Annual Meeting last Monday evening.

Riley is a pasture specialist working out of the Agricultural Office in North Bay. He listed four important ingredients in a successful pasture program. The most significant improvement can be made by dividing a pasture area into smaller sections. The cattle or sheep can be moved from one section to another. In this way the pasture is grazed more evenly and a rest period is provided to give the plants a chance to grow back. If the blades of grass are allowed to head out, they have lowered feed values and are less palatable.

Riley indicated that a beef animal will graze for a maximum of eight hours each day and will eat about 150 pounds of forage, under good conditions. If the pasture is too short or about two to three inches in height, the animal may not be able to eat as much within the eight-hour period. Also, if the plant has headed out, it is more difficult for the animal to chew. The animal will not likely be able to eat 150 pounds within the eight-hour period.

Fertilizing is quite important, especially when pastures are rotated. Phosphorus and potash should be applied based on soil test recommendations. Grass pastures should receive an application of nitrogen.

The nitrogen may be applied in split application to encourage plant regrowth during rest periods.

There are a number of plant species found in pasture including weeds, grasses and legumes.

Serious thought should be given to the cost of working up and reseeding pasture fields. In Northern Ontario, trefoil has been spread on the snow in late winter before the frost is out. This has resulted in excellent stands of trefoil within a year's time.

Last of all, healthy cattle and sheep gain much more quickly. Respiratory diseases and internal parasites can slow down an animal's growth rate.

Pasture rotating, fertilizing, improved plant species and healthy cattle can combine to make a large improvement in pasture gains.

The results will be increased stocking rates and more pounds produced per acre. In summary, Riley indicated pasture improvement is a long-term project. It might take up to five years for a pasture to reach its production potential under intensive management.

The BILD funding follows an announcement made by MP Bill Domm two weeks ago of $200,000 grant from the federal Skills Growth Fund to purchase computer-assisted design equipment for the CIM. Last year, the college received $2.7 million for construction of the CIM and initial equipment, $369,000 for CARMA and $280,000 towards the development of computer-aided learning. According to Pascal, "the success of our capital submissions over the last two years has enabled both campuses to continue the development of these important Centres of Excellence and other initiatives".

With this in mind it is claimed that all safe drugs should be available to physicians, to be drawn upon when needed. Another argument put forth for the medical use of heroin is that the drug is used in other countries, including Britain. In Britain, for example, physicians use heroin for conditions other than malignancy. Female patients who have difficult labours are frequently given this drug. It is also routinely and satisfactorily administered to heart attack victims and severely burned children.

Many argue that addiction concerns with regard to the use of heroin are misplaced when dealing with terminally ill patients. The major concern should be the relief of pain for a dying patient. It is also asserted that addiction concerns for terminal patients are reflective of a double standard inasmuch as tranquilizers are available even though there are addiction possibilities associated with their use.

Next week I will deal with arguments against the use of heroin.

Fuel Prices a Rip-off

The current fuel price increase demonstrates the need, among other things, for Ontario to consider requiring prior disclosure by the oil companies when they intend to raise prices, similar to that required in Nova Scotia. Such a disclosure process like that required by Nova Scotia's Public Utilities Board would allow the Ontario government and the public an opportunity to examine and make input into the decisions on the important matter of fuel pricing.

First, there was the federal grab of an additional 2.4 cents per litre announced in early November bringing the total federal taxes to 14.4 cents. Then the oil companies unilaterally announced a 10 cent a litre increase in late November which didn't stick.

Now the oil companies are back with the announcement of a 1.1 cent a litre increase effective immediately. To make matters worse many of the gasoline stations in Toronto raised their prices by 10 cents a litre on January 4, 1985, bringing the price of leaded regular gasoline to more than 50 cents per litre. This increase alone is 45 cents per Imp. gallon, bringing the total price per gallon to $2.27.

It is time to get the hands of government and the oil industry out of the Ontario consumers' pockets. We asked the provincial government to investigate the coordinated price increases in November. We are asking it again to stop the collusion and rip-off of Ontario drivers by the government tax bites and the oil industry price increases, and bring the whole matter under investigation.

Across the border in New York the price of gasoline at the pump averages 35.4 cents per litre (based on $1.34 Canadian per U.S. gallon), 14.6 cents less than the 50 cents per litre stations are now charging in Toronto. Ontarians are paying 66 cents a gallon more than car owners in New York.

Assuming Ontario consumers paid an average of 45 cents per litre last year compared to 35.4 cents in the U.S., they paid $1.12 billion more (based on 11.7 billion litres of gasoline consumed in Ontario in 1983) than they would have if they had been paying the U.S. price.

There is something very definitely wrong when we in Canada, rich in oil resources, must pay such outrageous prices to drive our cars and fuel transportation for our industries.

The provincial government's hands are not clean in this matter. For three years now it has been riding the gasoline gravy train with its 20 per cent ad valorem tax. Its current take on a litre of regular leaded gasoline is 8 cents. If the oil

County Farmers Association News

By ERNEST HILLS

The annual meeting of the Haliburton County Farmers Association, held on the bitterly cold evening of Tuesday, January 8, was remarkable in a number of instances. Attendance at the annual meeting over the past years has steadily grown, and Tuesday night was no exception, with a standing-room-only gathering. Such attendances are indicative of the interest and enthusiasm within the association.

One of the highlights of the evening was the awarding of Bicentennial certificates of merit, courtesy of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, to those who had made significant contribution to agriculture within the county. On hand for the ceremonies were Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Ekins and area agricultural representative Carm Hamilton.

An emotional presentation was made to Mrs. Ray Welch, in posthumous recognition of the valuable contribution her husband had made to Haliburton farming in his lifetime. Ray died just before Christmas, and will be sadly missed by all his friends within the association. Also recognized were Bud and Paula Kirchner, Sharron Greer, Wayne Cox, Randy and Maureen Warburton, Maurice Bradley and Ernest Hills.

Such presentations are always an honour, and a significant recognition for those who receive them. Inevitably someone somewhere is omitted, and that is unfortunate. I want to express, on behalf of the association, our sincerest appreciation to everyone who at some time has donated their services or resources to the cause of furthering agriculture in Haliburton County. We remain grateful for those contributions.

Standard fare at the annual meeting features the election of officers. This year, commencing his second term as president, Randy Warburton was declared in that position. Ernest Hills was elected to vice-president, and Maureen Warburton was again declared to the position of secretary/treasurer. On behalf of the rest of the executive I would like to express our appreciation to Maureen for the outstanding work and dedication she has shown in that position. Long meetings, mountains of correspondence, and attention to small details are just part of the workload Maureen has volunteered for, which she undertakes so efficiently, and which we are all so grateful for.

One of the healthiest signs of an interested membership was that elections were necessary to fill most of the directorships. Again this year there was an outstanding slate of candidates allowing their names to stand. The directors are as follows: Larry Hughes, director for large animal husbandry, horses; Ingram Wessell director for large animal husbandry, cattle; director for small livestock is Godfrey Tyler; Casey Cox, director for soil and field crops; Kathy Short is director for market gardens (and chairman for the farmers market); fair liaison will be overseen by Dwain Wruth; director for 4H is Tim Casey; and finally the director for maple syrup and forest management will be Keith Hughes.

The first executive meeting will be Tuesday, February 5th at the home of Casey Cox, at 8 p.m. At that time an agenda for the coming year will be set up.

Squeezed into the middle of these events, the association was pleased to welcome Barry Sinclair, who is the red meat advisor for the Victoria-Haliburton Counties. Barry discussed the red meats, weaning weight, and her health programs. He outlined to those in attendance the significant financial advantages to the cattleman, as well as discussing the obligations of the farmer enrolled in the programs. The programs have had a tremendously successful response from area farmers.

Dates to remember: Saturday, January 26, 6 p.m. in the Legion Hall, Haliburton, the Farmers Association is holding its annual banquet. Tickets are available from the 1984 executive. We are requesting donations to the traditional Chinese Auction. Anyone wishing to donate articles in advance please call Randy Warburton at 457-1299.

Sunday, February 17 at 1 p.m., in the Gelert Community Hall the Haliburton Highlands Goat Society will be holding a general meeting to discuss the new provincial meat goal standards and information on a provincial meat goal association. Everyone is welcome.

Question

By CATHERINE DENHOLM

Should doctors have been more alert at Sick Children's Hospital?

It is unlikely that we will ever know who killed the babies at Sick Children's Hospital but the murderer might have been found if the doctors who were attending those babies had alerted everyone to danger at that time.

They must have known something was wrong. There cannot be that many questionable deaths without suspicion or without the absolute necessity to know why the deaths have occurred. Did the doctors who were looking after those babies, notify authorities that something was wrong? If they did, why did it take four years for the hospital's executive director, Douglas Sneddon, to say "that hospital officials have finally and reluctantly accepted that some children were murdered?"

Did the medical doctors who were treating those children remain quiet because of medical ethics? Did they remain quiet because of possible malpractice suits? Did they remain aloof from trouble because traditionally their profession protects them from being questioned? Or were they more concerned with their own reputations or with the prestige of the hospital than they were in the care and safety of the babies they were treating?

All of this may be very unfair but until there is more information those doctors must accept some of the responsibility for the dark cloud that still hangs over that world famous institution.

WANDER - LUST
By H. JEAN BROWN

What gypsy bloods flows through my veins?
What dark ancestral strains?
What "Romany" my soul contains
That will not let me be?

The woodland path, half-hidden there,
The winding lane that leads to -- Where?
The country road that holds a dare
For me to go and see.

And all the valley stretching wide
The hills on the horizon ride,
What lies far on the other side
And beckons, beckons me?

So I become a rolling-stone.
Strange lands, strange cities all unknown -
Ah, how the wander-lust has grown
And I cannot be free.

For I still hear adventure's call,
And distant shores hold me in thrall
And though I'll never see it all
The world is there to see.

companies are able to maintain a 50 cent per litre price, then the provincial government will be able to raise the ad valorem by 2 cents for a total of 10 cents per litre based on its 20 per cent formula and grab another $234 million out of Ontario consumers' pockets.

I feel the provincial government should freeze its ad valorem and fight the oil industry and federal government price increases. We want the provincial government to stop being a part of the rip-off and fight for the rights of Ontario drivers.

We, the comrades of the Salvation Army would like to express our appreciation to the Bank of Montreal, and the Bank of Commerce and the merchants of Haliburton and Minden for their loyal support. Also, the different clubs which gave so willingly to support the Christmas program of helping the needy, a total of 75 families, in our area from Bancroft to Norland. We trust God will richly bless each and every one who took part, and helped in any way. Again our grateful thanks, for without each of you, we could not have done this task. IN MEMORIAM

NEWELL - In loving memory of Mom and Dad and sisters and brothers of the Irvin Newell family.

Though sorrow comes into our lives when those who love must part, Love lives on forever in warm memories of the heart, For sorrow is like winter... but love like gentle spring, Renews the world of beauty in our remembering.

Lovingly remembered - Mike, Yvonne and Family. 32-P-16

COX - In loving memory of Lyman Cox who passed away January 20, 1983.

Though his smile is gone forever, And his hand we cannot touch, Still we have so many memories, Of the one we loved so much. His memory is our keep-sake, With which we'll never part; God has him in his keeping We have him in our heart.

IN MEMORIAM

MORRISON - In memory of a dear wife and mother, Emma Morrison, who passed away January 15, 1984.

If I had all the world to give, I'd give it, yes, and more, To hear your voice, see your smile And hold you. But all I can do is go and tend your grave, And leave behind tokens of love, To the best wife and mother God ever made. I like to think when life is done, Wherever heaven may be, You'll be standing at the door To welcome us.

With our love, husband Walter and daughter, Rosealeen. 32-P-16

MORRISON, Emma - In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away January 15, 1984.

God looked around his garden And found an empty space Then he looked down upon the earth And saw your tired face. He put his arms around you And lifted you to rest God's garden must be beautiful For he only takes the best. It broke our hearts to lose you But you did not go alone For part of us went with you The day God called you home.

Forever loved and sadly missed by Ross, Joan and family. 32-B-16
